Cassandra Jeffries focuses her practice on First Party Insurance Defense, Property and Casualty Claims, and general Civil Litigation matters. Prior to joining the firm, Cassandra worked as a Litigation Attorney in Boca Raton representing financial institutions in contested foreclosure matters focusing on trials, depositions, and evidentiary hearings.

Cassandra has years of experience representing insurance companies in First Party and Third Party matters. She conducted depositions of party-opponents, medical providers, and witnesses along with defending individual and corporate clients during depositions. Cassandra has also provided Continuing Education courses for various clients.

Cassandra earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in History with minors in Politics and Theatre, from Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina. She then went on to earn her Juris Doctor degree from St. Thomas University, School of Law in Miami, Florida. During law school, Cassandra served as a Research Assistant, as well as a Legal Intern for the Honorable Stephen T. Brown, Southern District of Florida. She also served as the Senior Articles Editor on the Board of Editors of the Law Review and was a member of the Moot Court team.
