

How to find online bargains

 Print this guide

Online shopping is often cheaper than shopping on the high street, as shopping websites don't have as many overheads as high street stores. . It is estimated that the average person in the UK can give themselves the equivalent of a 25% pay rise by being pro active and looking for the best deals online.

However, it's possible to find even lower prices with a few simple tricks.

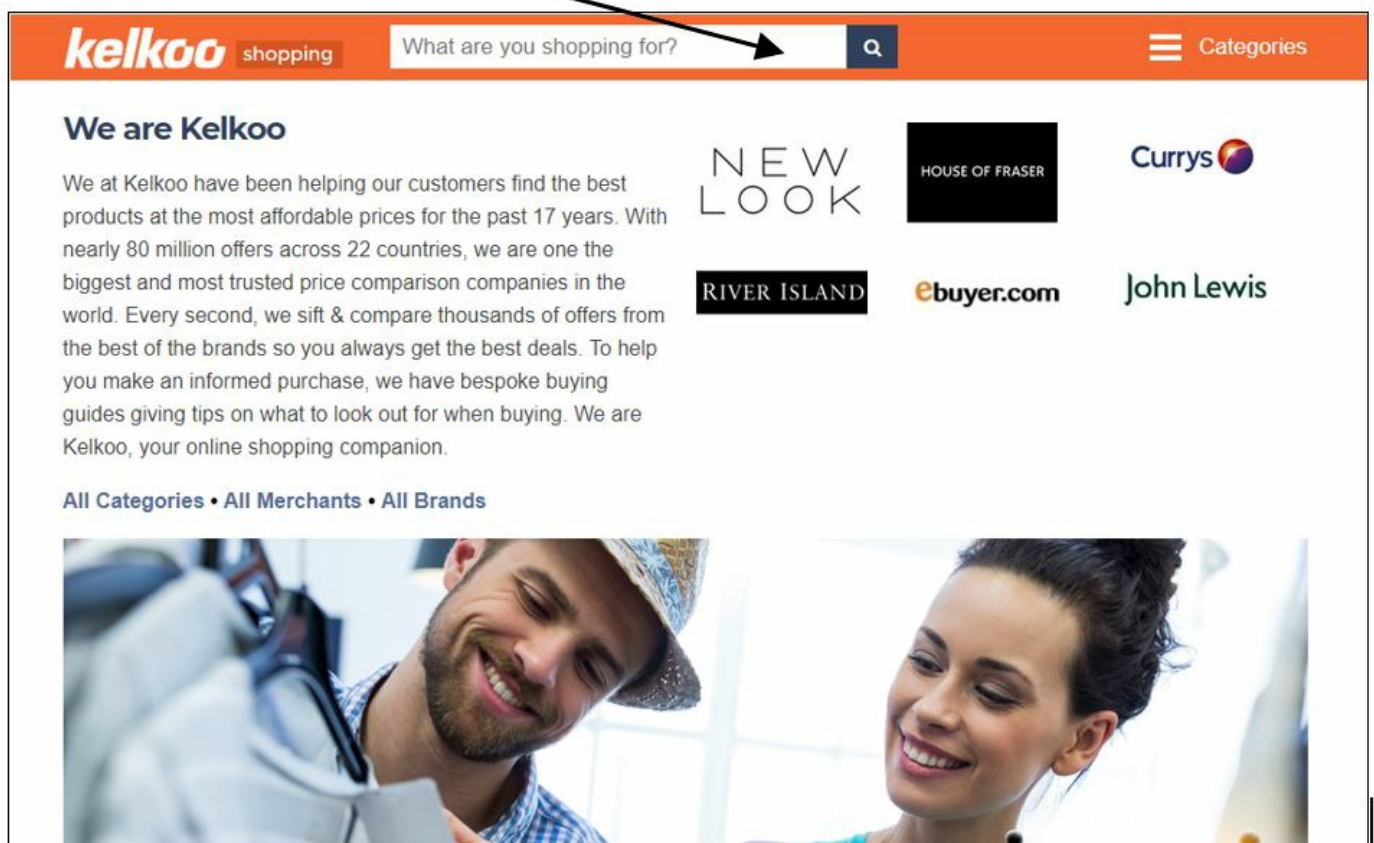

You'll need:

- a computer with an internet connection
- a debit or credit card if you decide to buy something
- A valid email address if you want to create an account on any of these websites

Follow these step-by-step instructions to find online bargains

Price comparison websites

If you know exactly which product you're looking for, price comparison websites are an effective way of finding the cheapest online merchant. Sites such as Kelkoo and Money Saving Expert search the internet for the best deals and then list them for you. All you need to do is type in the name of the product you're looking for and click the magnifying glass.

Be warned however that retailers can pay to have their website listed at the top of price comparison sites, so it's advisable to look at a few different ones to find the best deal. Go to our online guide on how to compare prices to find out more.

For instance, if you type iPads in the search box you will get a list of iPads and the retailers who have the best prices. You can also specify the price range that you would like to look at.

iPads

The Apple iPad is the clear leader in the category of tablet computers, with more than 11 million units of the original model sold in less than a year after its introduction in April 2010. The iPad2 was introduced in March 2011, and more than 15 million of those have been sold to date. The latest version, the new iPad (or iPad 3), includes a rear-facing and a 5 megapixel front-facing camera plus 4 times more pixels than the iPad 2. Many people use the iPad in place of a laptop computer, and the ever-growing list of applications, or apps, make it a very versatile mobile computing option. The device is ideal for viewing movies and videos and playing games, as well as using email and Web-based social networking services. One of the more popular apps is Facetime, a real-time video chat program. The new iPad runs the iOS operating system, which also powers the popular Apple iPhone. If you're looking to purchase an iPad, let Kelkoo help you find a cheap deal from a plethora of trusted online retailers such as Apple, Amazon, and eBay.

Shopping websites

Bargains can be found by browsing large shopping websites such as eBay and Amazon. Second-hand items are likely to be discounted and more unusual items may be less popular and therefore cheaper. Each site has a page dedicated to the latest discounts on offer – click Daily Deals on eBay and Today's Deals on Amazon for reduced price items.

Cashback sites

Once you've found a website with a good deal, go to a cashback site such as Quidco and you might be able to claim some of the money back from the purchase you make. For more details, see our guide How to use cashback sites.

We partner with over 4,500 top brands to offer you cashback every time you shop

Group buying

Group buying, sometimes called collective buying, works in a similar way to the discount codes used by retailers. Group buying websites can offer products and services at significantly lower prices than other sources. They generally offer a deal of the day, which goes ahead once a set number of orders are agreed. You are then able to print off a voucher to claim your discount at the retailer. Always check the expiry period however as sometimes there are specific dates built in.

Groupon and Wowcher are prominent examples of group buying sites. You log on to the website, enter your email address and locality, and then click Discover Deals or Sign Up!

We hope this guide has helped you to look for some useful bargains online. Look at the Next Steps suggestions below for some more great guides!
