What we do: our training

We provide the tools and expertise to tackle digital exclusion, using a Digital Champion model and based around online training products. These are flexible, accessible and "ready-to-go". They can be easily customised or scaled and used in combination or separately.

What do you want to achieve?

Train Champions who help others with digital skills?

We'll help you train people to...

- Have the skills and confidence to help others with digital technology.
- With access to a wide range of learning on issues ranging from safe-guarding to accessibility.
- Within a structured framework to support you to set up and run your project and monitor impact
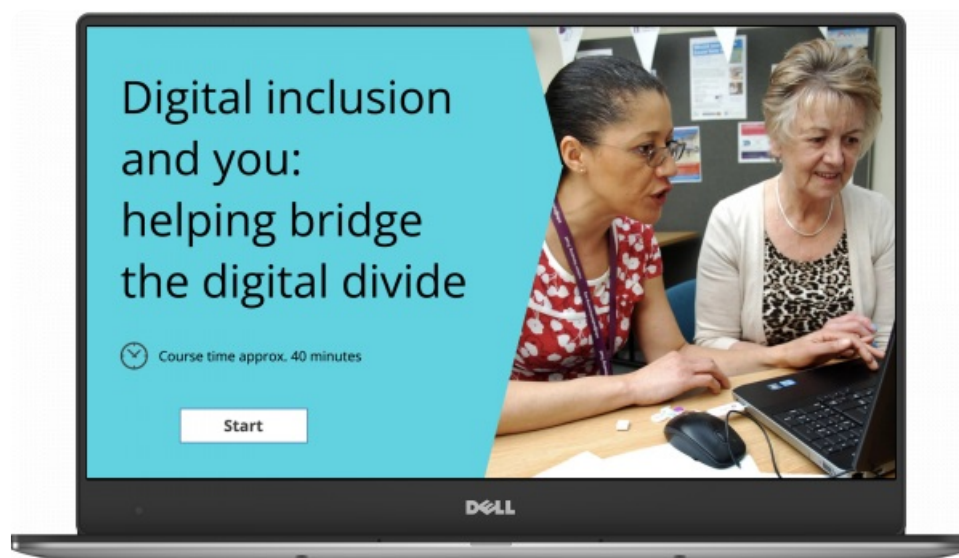

You need the Digital Champions Network!

Spread digital inclusion awareness across your organisation?

We'll help you get everyone you work with to ....

- Understand what digital inclusion is, why it matters and what they can do to bridge the digital divide.
- Work in a digitally inclusive way and create digitally inclusive services and products with impact you can measure and monitor.
- Get trained quickly and easily in an engaging, one-off course or workshop.

The course was great, simple to follow, accessible and I liked the bite size approach....

It really makes the individual take responsibility for their own actions.
