

What is PayPal?

Print

PayPal is an online tool for safely storing your card and bank account details so you don't have to type them into a website to shop or sell online. It acts as an intermediary, so you don't have to share your bank details with any third parties.

PayPal's key benefits and features

- It's free to open a PayPal account.
- PayPal charges a small transaction fee (at the time of writing, 1.4–3.4% of the amount charged + 20p) to the seller of an item, but not the buyer. There are also fees charged for currency conversion.
- PayPal saves your bank details securely so you don't have to keep typing them into different websites. All you need is your email address and a password to make a payment.
- You can use PayPal on lots of websites, such as eBay, the charity donation site JustGiving, and small and large retailer sites – just look for the PayPal logo.
- When you buy using PayPal, the seller won't see your bank details, only PayPal's. If you don't receive an item, PayPal can help you track down the seller so that you can receive a refund. Most eBay purchases made through PayPal are covered by 'eBay Buyer Protection' insurance.
- If you use PayPal as a seller on eBay, you can receive payments without having to disclose your bank details. The buyer pays into your PayPal account, and PayPal passes on the funds to you, after removing its transaction fee.

Next steps

What is eBay?

How to use PayPal

What is PayPal?

Internet shopping: how to buy online

How to shop safely online

Search guides

Search

Remote Digital Championing!

Guides covering some tips and techniques for providing remote support to learners, an increasingly important service in times of social isolation.

Find out more

Free how-to guides for your website

Why not add our award-winning and extensive range of digital skills guides to your website?

Find out more

Start a Digital Champion movement!

Could your workplace do with developing its digital skills? With funded membership opportunities currently available, now is the perfect time for organisations to join our Digital Champions Network.

Find out more

Subscribe to our newsletter

Join our mailing list to receive the latest news, offers and expert insights from our team.

First name

Last name

Email address

Submit