How to use cashback sites

Print this guide

Make a little bit of money back on your shopping by using a cashback site. When shopping online, visit a retailer's website via a cashback website and you can get back a small percentage of what you pay. This is because some retailers will pay other websites a commission for sending people to their websites. Cashback sites then pass some of this commission on to the consumer.

We're going to use Top Cashback as an example of this kind of site. However, there are other popular cashback sites that are just as effective.

You'll need:

- a computer with an internet connection
- a credit or debit card

Follow these step-by-step instructions on how to use cashback sites

Step 1: Go to the Top Cashback website.

Step 2: You'll be invited to join up, which is free. Type in your email address and a password, then click on the Join Now button.

Or you can choose to take payment as a voucher or e-gift card from one of a list of shops or food and drink sellers. There are quite a few choices and you do not have to spend all in one place but can split the value over several places if that is what you would like to do.

It's important to note that occasionally a claim will be declined and you won't receive any money. This might be because anti-virus software on your computer has prevented your purchase being tracked back to the cashback site. Cashback sites will usually investigate if claims are declined, so you may receive your money after waiting longer than usual. To raise a claim on Topcashback click on the Customer Service link at the bottom of the website page.
